Member activities and Christmas Party

Don Money is now the copy editor for Saddlebag Dispatches. He also won a Rural Memories writing contest for the Ozark Writers League.

Anthony Wood sold out of books at a recent book signing.

Kim Vernon and Gary Rodgers had a book signing in Heber Springs.

STEVE MAY NEEDS BLOGS! He was also voted vice president for the group for 2025. All other officers remain unchanged.

Del Garrett needs ghost stories for his Vault of Terror anthology by Dec. 31

Lydia Clark is seeking one-page stories for an anthology featuring interactions with God's word. Email her at rodentmom23@gmail.com for details.

There are currently six nominations for the Arkansas Hall of Fame being considered for the coming year.

The Christmas Party will be held at the Carmichael Center in Searcy on Dec. 16 at 6 p.m. Officers will be providing food for a potluck. There is no charge for guests as the only fee is a deposit that will be refunded if we clean up after the party. Message Rhonda Roberts about expected attendance. We will have our usual read-around, so bring a story or poem, no longer than two and a half pages double spaced, 12 point font.

Starting January, we will be moving our meetings to the fourth Monday of each month, and they will be held at the First Community Bank, 800 E Beebe-Capps. Meetings will continue to begin at 6:30 p.m. The first meeting will be Jan. 27.

We had a read-around of short western stories, some touching, some humorous, and all excellent (even if they broke the rules a little for a western).
